Proclamation

OFFICE OF MAYOR FRANK G. JACKSON

City of Cleveland, Ohio

In recognition of Ohio China Day

February 24, 2018

- Whereas*, on behalf of the citizens of the City of Cleveland, I am honored to offer this Proclamation designating February 24, 2018, as Ohio Day in the City of Cleveland; and,
- Whereas*, 2018 Ohio China Day was co-organized by the Cleveland Contemporary Chinese Culture Association (CCCCA) with 22 other organizations from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New York as a tribute to Chinese and Chinese American culture and residents in the state of Ohio and across the nation; and,
- Whereas*, the day long event will feature traditional Chinese dances, music performances, martial arts, Chinese calligraphy, painting, and games from over 50 different groups ranging in skill level from children to professionals; and,
- Whereas*, the City of Cleveland is proud to be hosting this event for the first time at Cleveland Public Auditorium and wishes a warm welcome to all attending the celebration.

Now therefore, I, Frank G. Jackson, the 56th Mayor of the City of Cleveland, do hereby offer this Proclamation designating February 24, 2018, as Ohio China Day in Cleveland. I invite all Clevelanders to visit the event and partake in the rich Chinese Culture that makes up part of the diverse fabric of our City.

In witness thereof, I have set my hand and caused the Corporate Seal of the City of Cleveland to be affixed on this 24th day of February in the year 2018.

Mayor Frank G. Jackson

Chinese School Association in the United States

Founded in 1994 the Chinese School Association in the United States (CSAUS) is a non-profit organization for Chinese language education in USA. Its mission is to promote the Chinese language and culture education, contributing to the overall Sino-American cultural exchange. Currently CSAUS has over 500 Chinese school members covering the majority of the states with over 100,000 students and over 8,000 teachers. The fact that all member schools provide relatively stable Chinese course offerings at stable locations attracts not only traditional inheritance Chinese learners but also non-inheritance population adding diversity to the schools. As the largest grass-root organization for Chinese Americans, CSAUS encourages active involvement in various cultural events and activities by its member schools and has been playing an important role in promoting Sino-American friendship.

For nearly a quarter century, led by its Board of Directors CSAUS has been working diligently on promoting development and improvement in the Chinese language educational frameworks and systems, providing platforms for teachers and school management teams to exchange ideas and learn from each other, enhancing educational training and learning materials. By doing all of these, CSAUS is able to help promote the long-term and positive development of the Chinese language and culture education in the U.S. Not only that, it also contributes to the overall cultural exchange and cooperation between China and United States and impacts positively on the harmonious relationship between the two countries.

CSAUS hosts a bi-annual member school convention since 1995. The next convention will be held at the end of 2018 and a new board of directors will be voted in for a two-year term by member schools' representatives. All CSAUS board members, including president and vice president and their staff are without pay. They volunteer their time, expertise and skills to help promote the Chinese language education and have by far achieved what the founders of CSAUS had visioned it to achieve.

Cleveland Contemporary Chinese School (CCCS)

Cleveland Chinese Culture Center (CCCC)

Founded in 1995, Cleveland Contemporary Chinese Culture Association (CCCCA) is a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization ran by volunteers from all walks of life, many of them American Chinese professionals. CCCCCA's mission is to promote multicultural exchange and diversity, strengthen Sino-American cultural and business relations. During the last two decades, CCCCCA has grown to become the largest and most active Chinese cultural organization in the northeast Ohio with a membership base of over one thousand people. CCCCCA overseas a weekend Chinese language and culture school called Cleveland Contemporary Chinese School (CCCS), a Cleveland Chinese Culture Center (CCCC) and various sports teams and arts troupe.

For the academic year of 2017-18, CCCC has more than 300 students from many diverse families. The school has more than 40 experienced language and art teachers, some certified by the state of Ohio and teaches at regular schools of local communities. Currently the school offers courses in Chinese language, painting, dance, acrobat, sports, martial arts, yoga, SAT, chess, etc. Every year our students' outstanding language skills and other talents are showcased at annual Chinese language and cultural competitions. Many of our students won numerous top awards at events like Youth Chinese Writing Competition in the USA, Worldwide Chinese Cultural Competition.

CCCCA holds many after school enrichment programs like music, dance and painting classes. Our arts troupes are a must-have for many cultural events like Cleveland One World, Cleveland Asian Festival, Solon Home Days, Cleveland International Day, Ohio China Day and Chinese New Year's Celebration Gala in Cleveland, Columbus and Pittsburgh. Since 2012 CCCCCA's student art troupe perform every year for many Cuyahoga County's senior centers with the general support from Cuyahoga County Arts & Culture.

The Achievement and success of CCCCCA would not be possible if not for the great support from all the volunteers, all CCCCCA's board directors, local governments and businesses. We welcome and encourages all people to join in our effort of language study, cultural awareness and diversity. Together we can make a difference. Together we will make a difference.

Ohio Chinese Festival – Ten years of Chinese Culture Celebration

Ohio Chinese Festival has had ten brilliant celebration events in Ohio's capital city, Columbus, since 2008. This brand was initiated and organized by Ohio Chinese Culture Link (CCL) and Ohio Contemporary Chinese School (OCCS), and jointly sponsored by Cleveland Contemporary Chinese School (CCCS) and Greater Cincinnati Chinese School (GCCS). The goals of the event have been set as to promote traditional Chinese culture, serve the needs of Chinese community, experience the colorful and authentic Chinese New Year environment, enhance mutual understanding and exchange of different ethnic cultures, and create diversified culture in the US. Ohio Chinese Festival has combined many culture event forms of Chinese spirit, which are enjoyed by people of all ages. The basic setting of the celebration is a form of Chinese Fair, including sport games, stage performance, food and tea ceremony, culture exhibitions, calligraph and drawing displays, children's carnival games, Chinese Visa service, dragon dance, Chinese Spelling Bee, and more. Ohio Chinese Festival has become the biggest Chinese culture event in Ohio, attracting thousands of people of various ethnic backgrounds each year.

Ohio Chinese Festival was initiated by Dr. Jianjun Wang, Honorary Chair of Chinese School Association in the US (CSAUS) and the first chairman of CCL. Since the first year, this event has been supported by many of individuals, organizations, vendors, local governments, school districts and Chinese consulate office. Volunteers put countless effort before, during and after the event, with extraordinary spirit and energy.

Ohio Chinese Festival also featured many unique facets of colorful Chinese culture by introducing different regions of China. Each year, there is a special theme in presenting its local flavor of culture – Guizhou, Hubei, Beijing, Sichuan, Shandong and Jiangnan area. These special-events highlighted China's rich and diversified culture tradition.

After ten years of success, Ohio Chinese Festival will have a great leap forward – the Event will, for the first time, be held out of Columbus, to the vibrant city Cleveland in 2018. Wish the 11th Ohio Chinese Festival great success!

Ohio Contemporary Chinese School – Leading Chinese Learning Institute in Central Ohio

Ohio Contemporary Chinese School (OCCS) is a heritage weekend school that introduces Chinese language and culture to overseas Chinese, their children, and the general public in Central Ohio. It also aims to serve as the Chinese community center. Successfully credited as "The Model School in Overseas Chinese Education" by Overseas Chinese Affairs Office of the State Council, OCCS stands out in the Chinese education here in the US.

Central Ohio Chinese learning center and community service center: being the largest Chinese organization, OCCS roots deeply in central Ohio Chinese Community, teaching Chinese, promoting culture diversity, and being the center of the Chinese community; The Ohio Chinese Festival, jointly initiated and organized by OCCS with Ohio Chinese Culture Link, has had ten extraordinary celebrations in the past ten years. OCCS is proudly to be the driven force of this biggest Chinese cultural event in Ohio. Continuous growing since 1994: OCCS is one of the earliest Schools of mainland Chinese background exploring teaching simplified characters and Putonghua using "Zhong Wen" and "Ma Liping Chinese" text books; Since its establishment 24 years ago, OCCS has been experiencing continuous growth and seeing enrollment rising year by year. It's now a undoubtable leading institute of Chinese Learning in Central Ohio; Well organized non-profit organization: As a non-profit organization, OCCS has always operated by volunteers; The school is owned by parents, with elected board and school administration team appointed by the board; The school is not for profit and a complete set of rules and regulations developed through the past 20 years ensure school's smooth operation;

Challenging and innovation spirits: as one of the earliest explorers in heritage Chinese school operation, OCCS has been facing countless challenges and overcome hurdles in school registration, non-profit organization status application, teacher recruiting, volunteer management, establishment of school rules and regulations, text book searching and bridging with main stream school education programs. The continuous challenging spirit has been in the key in OCCS' success;

Aiming high: Standing firm on the ground of Central Ohio, OCCS has been a strong driving force in the development of North American heritage Chinese schools and made tremendous contribution in the growth of Chinese School Association in the US (CSAUS). OCCS hosted the first national CSAUS conference and has been actively involving the management of CSAUS.

Greater Cincinnati Chinese School

Greater Cincinnati Chinese School ("GCCS") was founded in July 1995. Its chartered name is Cincinnati Contemporary Chinese School ("CCCS"). It joined Chinese School Association in the United States ("CSAUS") in the same year and became one of the earliest members in CSAUS.

GCCS is a non-profit organization staffed with 100% volunteers. Its mission is to teach Chinese language and promote Chinese culture. In the past 20+ years, GCCS provided opportunities of learning Chinese language and culture for people in Cincinnati and its surrounding areas. It promoted Chinese culture and served as a bridge to connect the people with Chinese heritage and other ethnic groups.

With the commitment and dedication from the generations of volunteers, GCCS made extraordinary contributions to the Chinese education in the Greater Cincinnati region. The number of student enrollment increased dramatically from original 70+ students and 8 teachers to over 230 students and 23 teachers. There are over 200 students graduated from our school. Jianyao Li, one of GCCS graduates, is a member of the America Team who participated 6th Oversea Chinese Students Culture Contest. His team was placed No. 4 in this world-wide competition. It is a significant achievement for Jianyao as much as it is for our school. We are proud to have him as our student.

GCCS not only serves the students with Chinese heritage, it also provides services to students with other culture background. There are over 400 non-heritage students attended or are attending our language classes. The language proficiency for a few of them are at the similar level as their heritage counter parts.

In addition to the Chinese language education, GCCS also actively involved in the local community to promote Chinese culture. Every year, we host our Chinese New Year Gala to celebrate rich culture and tradition of China with families and friends from GCCS and other local organizations. Because of its impact, local TV stations and newspaper had sent their crew on site to conduct interviews and make news clips.

As a grassroots organization, Greater Cincinnati Chinese School played a key role in contributing to the culture diversity of the Greater Cincinnati region. It united the Chinese in the Tri-state area, promoted Chinese culture, and built friendly relationship among organizations of Chinese, American and other cultures. We are committed to our mission and resolved to continue our success story. We believe with the determination and hard work of our volunteers, the future success of GCCS will be beyond our imagination.

Akron Chinese School

Akron Chinese School was founded in 2014 and located nearby the University of Akron; Akron Chinese School is hosted by the Akron Chinese Christian Church to meet the Chinese educational needs of families in regions of Akron and Canton, just south of Cleveland. The School website is <https://acc.church/chinese-school/>. The school uses the textbook authored by Liping Ma, and uses multi-media assisted teaching methods in a small classroom environment. To ensure the highest quality of instruction, a lead teacher as well as an assistant leader is assigned to some classes based on their needs. All lead teachers have been professionally certified by educational institutions the US or China, and have years of teaching experience. The majority of our teachers are also members of the Akron Chinese Christian Church. Besides their knowledge of the Chinese language, they also care for the students' spiritual needs and help them build character. Our school also provides various activities for parents while their child is in class, such as group exercise, basketball, volleyball, badminton, bible study group, and special forums.

The American Chinese School of Greater Detroit (ACSGD)

The American Chinese School of Greater Detroit (ACSGD) is a non-profit educational institution that operates during the school year's weekends. Dedicated to the teaching of Chinese language and culture to residents in the Greater Detroit area. ACSGD is now Michigan's largest Chinese school, and Michigan's only designated host for the Hànyǔ Shuǐpíng Kǎoshì (HSK), China's only national standardized test for Chinese language proficiency in non-native speakers. In 2013, ACSGD was also recognized by the Chinese government as one of the best 'Oversea Model School for Chinese Education'.

ACSGD offers Chinese classes throughout Grades pre K-11 and bilingual classes. In addition, annual Chinese Pinyin, speech and writing contests within and outside of ACSGD are organized to promote academic excellence. Besides Chinese language classes, the school also offers cultural classes, including dance, singing, painting, chess, martial arts, basketball, creative writing, math and SAT prep. Lastly, various adult classes such as aerobics, yoga, dance and Taiji are offered to the school's parents so that they can receive an enriching experience as well.

Annhua Chinese School

Annhua Chinese School was founded in 1993. It is located at Ann Arbor, Michigan where University of Michigan is. Annhua is a non-profit organization. It runs on Sunday from September of each year to June of next year, offering various classes to students of 5 to 14 years of age from 9:00am to 6:00pm in a local community college. The School has currently more than 400 students whose primary home language is Chinese with a smaller portion of her students whose home language is English. The School has 35 teachers and offers 45 various Chinese language and culture classes.

Annhua's core curriculum is of Chinese language courses. To promote better understanding of the culture in which the Language is spoken, Annhua also offers various cultural classes such as Chinese history and geography, Chinese dance, calligraphy, Chinese painting, etc. In addition, to meet students' needs in competitions and testing, Annhua offers advanced math courses, SAT (English and Math) and AP prep classes as well. Students at Annhua participate in various cultural activities organized by the School such as annual Chinese New Year Party, Mid-Autumn Festival, Graduation Ceremony, Chinese language and culture summer camps, Youth Talent Show and Chinese History and Geography Knowledge Contest.

Annhua Chinese School is run by parent, student and other volunteers. It is composed of the Board of Directors, School Administrative Team, Rainbow Project Team and Annhua Community Center. Qualified teachers are selected via public job postings, face-to-face interviews and training. Junior high or high school students are encouraged to volunteer for the School by being part of the Annhua Student Volunteer Team or becoming teaching assistants in the classrooms.

Buffalo Chinese School

Buffalo Chinese School is a non-profit, non-political and non-religious educational organization. It was established in the middle of 1986 by a group of enthusiastic parents with only a dozen students. Today, it has developed into an organization with more than 160 students at 12 levels.

The objective of the school is to provide an environment and opportunity for all interested (with or without Chinese heritage) students to learn Chinese language and culture. The school teaches standard Mandarin, its Romanization system, pinyin, and simplified characters, and it emphasizes all the four aspects of the acquisition of a language: listening, speaking, reading and writing. At present, the school adopts the textbook Chinese (<<中文>>) edited by Jinan University, China.

The School is supervised by the Board Committee which consists of parent and teacher representatives and by Parent Committee. It is affiliated to the Western New York Chinese Club and a member school of Chinese School Association of United States. We welcome and appreciate donations from organizations and individuals. This school is tax-exempt organization and your generous donation is tax - deductible.

Pittsburgh Chinese School

Pittsburgh Chinese School (PCS) was founded in 1977 and has been a non-profit organization since. The mission of PCS is to provide an organized environment for people to learn Chinese language, culture, and arts, and to promote multinational and multiethnic culture activities in the Pittsburgh area.

PCS campus is located in Squirrel Hill at Alderdice High School. PCS has about 300 students from kindergarten through 12th grade and adult level, and has more than 70 teachers and staffs. There are two semesters in a school year and 14-18 weeks per semester. The classes are held on Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00. The first two hours are for language lessons and the third hour is for culture and arts. In addition to language and culture learning, PCS also organizes student competitions, seminars, and stage performance activities within school year.

To promote Chinese culture and arts, PCS also sponsors and participates in local community culture activities.

Westlake Chinese School

Westlake Chinese School, officially known as Westlake Chinese Culture Association, also known as Westlake Chinese Cultural Association, has more than 25 years history of promoting Chinese arts and culture in Greater Cleveland since found in 1987 as a home school.

Currently our school consists of three teaching groups with a total of 130+ students from about 80 families: One group is for the students with native speaking background. The other two groups are for the students without speaking background (Adopted Chinese children or individuals from other ethnic groups who are interested in Chinese culture and arts).

We offer Chinese language and culture classes on Saturday morning from 9-11 AM during the school year at Lee Burnson Middle School. Classes are offered for ages from preschool through adult including College Prep for high school students. Extracurricular activities relating to Chinese culture and recreation includes Chinese dance, Kungfu, Chinese painting, chess, table tennis, etc.

Our school has excellent teachers. Most of the Chinese teachers have master's degree in education and teacher's certificates from State of Ohio. More than half of the teachers have over 10 years of teaching experience. We are proud to have the Greater Cleveland Regional Excellent Chinese Teacher Award winner Qizhi Zhang as the Director of Education and devoted dance teacher Debbi Liou as the Director of Arts.

WCCA hosts special celebration event with live performance around traditional Chinese New Year (Spring Festival). We also actively participates in Asian culture events throughout the year all over the Greater Cleveland area.
